RE-ADVERTISED

INDIVIDUAL CONSULTANCY

TERMS OF REFERENCE FOR CONDUCTING AN ASSESSMENT OF FARMERS SATISFACTION IN THEIR PARTICIPATION IN IMIHIGO PROCESS FOR 2020/2021 FISCAL YEAR

1. Background and Context

Agricultural development is key to food security and poverty reduction. The increase in agriculture production accounted for about 45 percent of the reduction in poverty, which has decreased by 14 percentage points over the last decade<sup>1</sup>.

Underlying sustainable economic development in the agriculture sector in Rwanda are performance-based contracts called Imihigo. The Imihigo have a strong focus on results, which makes it an invaluable tool in the planning, accountability, monitoring and evaluation processes. To turn farmers' priorities planned in Imihigo into the reality, the entire process should be accompanied by quick and operative service delivery process that respects accountability of local Government, feedback to citizens and participation of citizens.

In that context, TI-Rwanda has designed, with the support of World Bank through its specialized branch in charge of Social Accountability called Global Partnership for Social Accountability "GPSA", the project named «Empowering Farmers at District level through Social Accountability tools to improve District Performance Contracts "Imihigo" in Rwandan Agriculture» in order to overcome the observed gaps in Imihigo cycle.

The project is being implemented in Kayonza and Nyanza District with around 4047 and 3284 farmers who are direct beneficiaries in Kayonza and Nyanza respectively. The objective of the project is to contribute to improving the effectiveness of public agriculture projects at the decentralized level in Rwanda by using social accountability tools to strengthen citizen participation in the planning, monitoring and evaluation of district performance contracts known as "Imihigo". This project is implemented in partnership with two others local CSOs namely Imbaraga farmer's association and SDA-Iriba in Kayonza and Nyanza respectively.

In order to achieve its objectives, 4 main strategies have been defined and termed as components:

Component 1: Increasing farmers' ownership of agricultural projects;

Component 2: Deepening and scaling up of the cooperation between CSOs and government officials for insuring efficiency of agricultural projects;

Component 3: Sharing knowledge and lesson learnt;

Component 4: Project Implementation unit.

To ascertain the level of farmers' satisfaction in respect with their participation in the planning, implementation and evaluation of agriculture and livestock projects planned in Imihigo, Transparency International Rwanda carries out a survey to assess farmers' satisfaction at the end of imihigo fiscal year. For this year, the survey of that kind will assess the level of farmers' satisfaction with their participation in imihigo planning in Kayonza and Nyanza Districts for 2019/2020 imihigo fiscal year.

2. Objectives of the Assignment

The general objective of the survey is to understand the trends in farmers' participation in imihigo planning and to find out if their participation enhances their livelihoods.

The survey is intended to provide the quantitative assessment and qualitative appreciation of farmers' priorities taken into consideration in all the dimensions of Imihigo process in agriculture sector.

Specifically, this survey will seek to achieve the following objectives:

- To determine the level of farmer's satisfaction with their participation in planning, implementation and evaluation of Imihigo in Nyanza and Kayonza Districts
- To understand the significance of the identified trends for farmers' livelihoods and wellbeing in Nyanza and Kayonza
- To evaluate the number of open data mechanisms on imihigo process and contents in place in the framework of feedback.
- To assess the level of farmer's satisfaction on the functional mechanisms in place for them to provide feedback on imihigo/ Action plan in Nyanza and Kayonza districts
- To identify citizen feedback on the government response in service delivery in Agriculture during Covid19 pandemic
- To assess the level of CSO inclusion and participation in the imihigo planning, monitoring process
- To identify the number of public institutions that adapt the social accountability mechanisms to their context
- To examine the challenges related to farmer's satisfaction in planning, implementation and evaluation of imihigo in Nyanza and Kayonza District

- Provide recommendations to mitigate challenges.

3. Methodology

The methodology should combine both qualitative and quantitative approaches. It should also provide details on how data will be collected from citizens, how data analysis will be conducted, including data entry techniques and tools to be used. The survey will be carried out in Project intervention areas (Nyanza and Kayonza Districts) and will target respondents from both males and females. Data will be disaggregated by 2 districts. The methodology has also to show how the survey will be conducted in order to collect data measuring farmers' satisfaction of performance contracts process in agriculture sector. Thus, the consultant will be appreciated for using participatory tools and techniques for data collection, which may include but not limited to questionnaire, in- depth interview, key informant interview, focus group discussion, etc. The consultant is required to produce a detailed research methodology and tools.

4. Scope of the study
